SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. In January 1950, the Chinese Communist Army began to repair the main highway between Wulungpei (124-17, 40-16) and Antung (124-23, 40-09). The road was to be widened by from one to two meters and to be completed by April 1950.
2. Compulsory labor was being used. Three persons regardless of sex were required to work from each farm family. They were required to work nine hours daily and received only a small quantity of bean powder in lieu of wages.
